DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Claims 4, 5, and 14-21 have been withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on March 8, 2006.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Lund (WO 89/01104).

Claims 1-3 and 11-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Schwartzman (863).

Claims 1-3 and 11-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by De Lafocade. The reference to De Lafocade discloses the recited valve mechanism comprising a valve seat portion near 22, having an opening through which fluid flows, a valve portion comprising a valve body 7 having a shape corresponding to the opening, a shaft 27, a valve support portion comprising a bottom plate 26, an annular support 17 fixedly attached to the valve seat, at least three connectors 25 in the form of flexions connecting the bottom plate and the annular support urging the bottom plate downward to close the opening and the bottom plate moves upward on bending of the connectors to push the valve to the open position, where such is provided on a container 100.

Claims 1-3 and 11-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Schwartzman (668). The reference to Schwartzman discloses the recited valve mechanism comprising a valve seat portion near 30, having an opening through which fluid flows, a valve portion comprising a valve body 36 having a shape corresponding to the opening, a shaft 38, a valve support portion comprising a bottom plate 40, an annular support 42 fixedly attached to the valve seat via portion 26, at least three connectors 44 in the form of flexions connecting the bottom plate and the annular support urging the bottom plate downward to close the opening and the bottom plate moves upward on bending of the connectors to push the valve to the open position, where such is provided on a container 10.

Claims 1-3 and 6-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Schwartzman (162). The reference to Schwartzman discloses the recited valve mechanism comprising a valve seat portion near 22, having an opening through which fluid flows, a valve portion comprising a valve body 33 having a shape corresponding to the opening, a shaft 34, a valve support portion comprising a bottom plate 36, an annular support 42 fixedly attached to the valve seat, at least three connectors 38 in the form of flexions connecting the bottom plate and the annular support urging the bottom plate downward to close the opening and the bottom plate moves upward on bending of the connectors to push the valve to the open position, where such is provided on a container 10, a guide portion is formed by multiple ribs 23 at the opening for discharging fluid and guiding the shaft and extends to the valve seat.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The patents to Schwartzman (554, 213, and 563), Tsunemoto and Wass disclosing state of the art valves for dispensers.
